

Great Plains Quality Innovation Network is the Quality Innovation Network-Quality Improvement Organization for Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota. We aspire to make health in our region the best in the nation

March 2018

Great Plains QIN aims to achieve better health care, improved health, safer care and lower healthcare costs

Accomplishments and Achievements

- Established a Patient and Family Advisory Council in each state to better understand and include the patient perspective and 'voice' in our quality improvement efforts
- Testing innovative new ways to reach Medicare beneficiaries and their families, including using Facebook ads to promote registration in local diabetes self-management classes
- 2017 National Achievement Award Winner, a prestigious national honor recognizing leadership in increasing colorectal cancer screening rates. The award is given on behalf of the National Colorectal Cancer Roundtable
- Social media platforms launched in September 2017; our reach and impressions exceeds 53,000
- Assisted Fort Yates Indian Health Service hospital in their achievement of Joint Commission Accreditation. CMS presented the Standing Rock Tribal facility a CMS QIIG Results Coin award at a recent national meeting

Great Plains Quality Innovation Network is the Quality Improvement Organization for Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

